WHEAT CROPS LOOKING BETTER

EARLY SEASON HARD ON YOUNG WHEAT BUT RECENT WEATHER PROMISES TO AID. CROPS ARE SHOWING IMPROVEMENT.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 24— Varying reports of the condition of inland empire wheat fields have been received here. An unusually wet spring, floods, wind storms and a hard winter have done much damage in some districts, while other sections have come through the winter in good shape and look forward to a good harvest.

Pendleton, in the heart of a big wheat growing district, reports that recent clear weather has brightened crop prospects. Farmers report that they never before saw wheat grow so rapidly. There is danger, they say, that the weather will turn too warm and cause the wheat roots to spread out rather than go down; deep roots being necessary to enable the crop to withstand storms and hot winds.

From the wheat sections in Idaho, especially Whitman and Latah counties, reports come of varying prospects. A heavy blanket of ice in some sections is said to have smothered out the young plants and the farmers are reseeded with peas and oats. Other parts of Idaho report that the wheat prospects are improving with more favorable weather.

In many districts along the river the recent high water has ruined many a rich wheat field. Many thousands of acres of wheat land in Oregon, Washington and Idaho have been hit by the flood and are now being reseeded with spring wheat.

Alfalfa is another staple eastern Oregon crop which has come through the winter with little success. Some sections report 50 per cent of their alfalfa killed, entire fields being brown and bare.

E. E. McKeen, formerly of the Indian service at Klamath Agency, has left for Colorado where he has taken a government position.

Letters from the People

INDIAN PLEADS FOR LOYALTY

My fondest hope is the consummation of the war—though it is contingent that the war will last for some years.

Though spontaneously must we go forth and enlist in the great army. We must produce, and strike with our utmost strategy in trying to subdue our enemies.

Though we are but a handful of Indians upon this reservation, our affinity is sincere with the Government. We regard ourselves countable with the United States.

I invoke my memories of old when our ancestors went forth to war—fight—yes fight—until the last drop of blood froze in their veins.

That fighting blood still flows in some of our younger generation. So let the sky be our humiliation of thought. Let us not stand back and abhor the crush of this great conflagration of destruction.

Let us determine our future destiny.

Patriotism is the word I want to convey to all. Let us administer a "coup de grace" to our enemy.

So let us not be desperate in our final conclusions of our loyalty.

"A run for your money"

"We have used up two hours time and a good disposition selling a man his first Diamond tire. He didn't know the tire very well and wasn't quite sure of us. But there is no money in that kind of business—unless they come back for more.

"There's the point. We can sell almost any make of tire once.

"But what's the use?"

"We want to be your regular tire dealers now and for a long time to come.

"We have the tires, we have the prices, we have the inclination, too."

Every Diamond Tire must deliver full value in service. If over a Diamond Tire fails, a cheerful, willing adjustment will be promptly made.
